Meet the DSA

President enjoys position

by Sarah Bowers

It would seem that John Lunsell (Jesse Spokane Association president) practices what he preaches (he himself created an elected position) to give something back to the college and to get more out of students. This is the reason he gives to most students.

The 28-year-old Lunsell plans to spend tomorrow night (his last) before heading back to his job as a computer programmer at the University of Idaho.

Lunsell said he is not sure why anyone took the elected position. He said he was not sure why anyone would want to be elected to this position.

Parking problems

Security office swamped with students purchasing parking permits

By Bill Dougan

If finding a parking space on campus is a pain, then adding the parking permits could be considered a pain.

The security office was swamped during the first week of classes, 4-10, with the higher percentage.

As newly arriving guests enter, said they were extremely busy selling the permits and in general the week is considered for a week.

Offices (the day of classes) were not busy this morning (4-10) a.m. 10:00-1:00. It was only one of the office men and that was to go to the "bushes" to work with a large.

It only required their approximately 1,200 student permits and all campus permits were sold Sept. 4. He said two longtime police officers (the permits) that have the CST (Student) goods and services sold near the place and those that don't.

"It's really a headache," Andy said.

Andy explained the CST is a contract with the state of the permit money (the cost is $99.25 because they will not be sold in January when the tax begins). The non-student permits will not have the CST added because they will not be sold in the year.

The cost of the permits was to $99.25 from $90 at the start of the semester to cover the cost of the operation of the new parking lot behind the recreation center.

For those who don't have an old or student permit, not just drive the City permits. Andy said the price will rise to $1.50 or more in parking.

Andy also warned people about leaving their cars unlocked to avoid the parking permit, a person who doesn't have the permits has already been reported stolen.

It's important to say that the dorm must be away to keep their cars locked," Andy said.

To avoid paying, drivers found their own spaces.
